

Thursday, June 21st

9:00am – 11:30am – Opening Session

David Lawler

David Lawler is the Chief Executive Officer of BP's US Lower 48 (L48) Onshore exploration and production business and a Director on the Board of BP America Production Company.

Headquartered in Denver, the L48 business operates across five states from Texas north through the Rocky Mountains and produces approximately 300 mboed from interests in over 20,000 wells.

David joined BP in September 2014 from SandRidge Energy, Inc., (NYSE:SD) a US-based oil and gas independent headquartered in Oklahoma City, where he served as Executive Vice President and Chief Operating Officer. Prior to joining SandRidge in 2011, David was the Chief Executive Officer and President of PostRock Energy Corporation (NYSE:PSTRQ) and its predecessor entities where he worked for four years.

David began his career as a production engineer with Conoco and later joined Burlington Resources where he served in drilling engineering and well site leadership positions. He then spent 10 years with Shell Exploration and Production Company in a series of roles with increasing responsibility, including business planning for the Americas and engineering and operations manager for the US Gulf Coast business unit.

In addition to his role with BP, David serves as a board member for the Texas Oil & Gas Association and the Mewbourne College of Petroleum at the University of Oklahoma. David served as a director of PennTex Midstream Partners, LP (NASDAQ:PTXP) and as a member of the Audit Committee from 2015 until its sale to Energy Transfer Partners, LP in 2017.

David graduated from the Colorado School of Mines with a Bachelor of Science in Petroleum Engineering and earned his Master of Business Administration from Tulane University.

11:30am – 12:50pm – Membership Luncheon and Business Meeting

1:00pm – 3:00pm – AAPL 2015 JOA - Dealing with an Operator or Non-Operator who is under Financial Distress or in Bankruptcy

PANEL

Andy Graham

Andy Graham has practiced energy and mineral law with Steptoe & Johnson PLLC over the last 12 years in Texas and West Virginia, focusing on mineral title examinations, conducting due diligence in the buying and selling of mineral assets, including several multi-million dollar transactions, which included title review, litigation and regulatory risk assessment, and title curative work, and handling issues related to surface use and compensation arising from mineral development. He is also an adjunct professor of energy land management at West Virginia University in Morgantown, West Virginia and the West Virginia case reporter for the Rocky Mountain Mineral Law Foundation's Mineral Law Newsletter.

Dorsey Roach, UnitPro Land Consultants, LLC

Dorsey attended the University of Oklahoma where in 1977 he received a B.B.A., majoring in Petroleum Land Management (PLM). Upon graduating, Dorsey began his career with Exxon Corporation where he was trained and specialized as a pooling and unitization landman. From 1987-2009, he also held staff and managerial positions with Mesa Petroleum, Crawley Petroleum, Union Pacific Resources, the Williams Cos. and Cheyenne Petroleum.

Since 2009, Dorsey has been managing member/owner of UnitPro Land Consultants, LLC in Oklahoma City where he offers expert witness services for litigation involving land contracts, assists companies in structuring, preparing and/or negotiating their drilling deals and related contracts, and presents seminars for AAPL and other industry organizations.

Dorsey has been a member of the American Association of Professional Landmen (AAPL) since 1977, and a Certified Professional Landman (CPL) since 1986. Since 1984, he has been an instructor for AAPL's CPL Review courses and Joint Operating Agreement ("JOA") seminars. He has authored papers and delivered hundreds of presentations and seminars to numerous industry-related organizations. He was also an adjunct professor in the PLM/Energy Management Program at the University of Oklahoma from 1983-2008, and the Tulsa University Energy Management Program from 2007-2015.

From 1986-1989, Dorsey served as chairman of the AAPL 1989 JOA Revision Committee. From 2011-2015, he served on the AAPL JOA Task Force that drafted the AAPL 1989 Horizontal JOA, and the AAPL 2015 JOA. He currently serves as Chairman of a newly formed drafting committee for AAPL that is charged with drafting a first-ever industry model form Participation Agreement.

Jeff Weems, Staff Weems LLP

Jeff Weems is an energy litigator with the firm Staff Weems LLP. After years of working on rigs and as a landman, he has practiced energy law for over 26 years, concentrating on litigation. Jeff represents working interest owners, service companies, midstream participants and royalty owners in a wide range of energy-based disputes. He is a skilled trial lawyer with a record of success in courts across Texas.

Jeff is a frequent lecturer and was the co-chair of the Oil and Gas Section of the Rocky Mountain Mineral Law Foundation's 60th Annual Institute. Jeff is a member of the American Petroleum Institute – Houston, the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners, and the American Association of Professional Landmen (AAPL). He was a member of the AAPL Task Force charged with rewriting the 2015 Model Form Operating Agreement. Jeff is a Texas Super Lawyer in Energy Law¹ and is an adjunct professor of Oil and Gas Law at the University of Houston Law Center.

Jeff received his BBA in Petroleum Land Management with high honors from the University of Texas at Austin in 1983. He graduated with honors from the University Of Texas School Of Law in 1989, where he was a member of the Texas Law Review.

Mark Burghardt

Mark Burghardt represents clients in the energy and natural resource industry in litigation, administrative hearings, and transactions. Having been involved in the energy industry his entire career, Mark engages with clients to prevent and solve issues with the location and development of their oil, gas, mining, and renewable energy projects. He has worked with companies on projects involving federal, state, private and Indian lands.

Mark has also represented clients in a wide range of transactions and joint ventures. He has litigated energy development and land use disputes in both federal and state court and has routinely appeared before Utah Board of Oil, Gas and Mining and the Utah Division of Environmental Quality.

By working with his clients, Mark has helped resolve surface access, permitting, bonding, and title disputes. He has also guided companies through the condemnation process for roads, pipelines, and other energy facilities.

3:00pm – 4:00pm – Petroleum Engineering for Non-Engineers

Zack Arnold

Mr. Arnold serves as the President and CEO of Infinity Natural Resources. Prior to Infinity, Mr. Arnold was employed as the General Manager of Operations for Northeast Natural Energy from 2014 to 2017. During his time with NNE, Mr. Arnold was instrumental in driving the growth and development of the company's Marcellus Shale asset in Northern WV. Prior to joining NNE, Mr. Arnold held various roles at Chesapeake Energy including Drilling Engineer, Completions Superintendent and Operations Manager. During his time, Mr. Arnold was instrumental in the drilling, completion, and operation of Chesapeake's unconventional wells including the initial horizontal wells in the Marcellus and Utica Shales. Before Chesapeake, Mr. Arnold began his career as a Production Engineer with Chevron in Bakersfield, CA where was exposed to the safety culture, operational excellence and the process oriented mindset of a major energy company. Throughout his career, Mr. Arnold has assembled teams to execute on a variety of innovative development strategies. Mr. Arnold is a long time West Virginia resident and a graduate of Marietta College with a degree in petroleum engineering. He is section chair of the Northern West Virginia Chapter of SPE, a registered Professional Engineer and resides in Bridgeport, WV with his wife and his three children.

3:00pm – 5:00pm – Contract Center – Best Practices for Contract Preparation

Friday, June 22nd

8:15am – 10:15am – Contract Center – Best Practices for Contract Preparation

9:00am – 10:00am – History of the Teapot Dome

Matthew R. Silverman

Matt Silverman is Exploration Manager for Robert L. Bayless, Producer in Denver. He has degrees in both American History and Geology. The 1920s oilfield scandal at Teapot Dome represents the triple junction of his interests in Presidential history, petroleum exploration and bathtub gin.

10:15am – 11:15am – Participation Agreements

Dorsey Roach, UnitPro Land Consultants, LLC

Dorsey attended the University of Oklahoma where in 1977 he received a B.B.A., majoring in Petroleum Land Management (PLM). Upon graduating, Dorsey began his career with Exxon Corporation where he was trained and specialized as a pooling and unitization landman. From 1987-2009, he also held staff and managerial positions with Mesa Petroleum, Crawley Petroleum, Union Pacific Resources, the Williams Cos. and Cheyenne Petroleum.

Since 2009, Dorsey has been managing member/owner of UnitPro Land Consultants, LLC in Oklahoma City where he offers expert witness services for litigation involving land contracts, assists companies in structuring, preparing and/or negotiating their drilling deals and related contracts, and presents seminars for AAPL and other industry organizations.

Dorsey has been a member of the American Association of Professional Landmen (AAPL) since 1977, and a Certified Professional Landman (CPL) since 1986. Since 1984, he has been an instructor for AAPL's CPL Review courses and Joint Operating Agreement (“JOA”) seminars. He has authored papers and delivered hundreds of presentations and seminars to numerous industry-related organizations. He was also an adjunct professor in the PLM/Energy Management Program at the University of Oklahoma from 1983-2008, and the Tulsa University Energy Management Program from 2007-2015.

From 1986-1989, Dorsey served as chairman of the AAPL 1989 JOA Revision Committee. From 2011-2015, he served on the AAPL JOA Task Force that drafted the AAPL 1989 Horizontal JOA, and the AAPL 2015 JOA. He currently serves as Chairman of a newly formed drafting committee for AAPL that is charged with drafting a first-ever industry model form Participation Agreement.

11:30am – 1:00pm – Education Luncheon: The War on Hydrocarbons

Steve Goreham

Steve Goreham is an informative and engaging speaker, delivering compelling and provocative programs to businesses, universities, and diverse organizations. Steve is an independent scholar, researcher, and futurist in the fields of energy and environmental policy, as well as a former engineer and business executive with 30 years of experience at Fortune 100 and private companies. He's Executive Director of the Climate Science Coalition of America, an independent, non-political association of scientists and concerned citizens focused on informing Americans about the realities of climate science and energy economics.

Steve is author of two books on energy and climate change with over 100,000 copies in print. He's a freelance columnist and frequent guest on radio and TV, including Dennis Miller, Sean Hannity, and Fox Business Channel. He holds an MBA from the University of Chicago and a BS/MS in Electrical Engineering from the University of Illinois.

Steve presents a fresh viewpoint on environmental, economic, energy, climate, and public policy topics in a down-to-earth style that all can understand, and with stories and humor that all will enjoy.

1:00pm – 3:00pm – Contract Center – Best Practices for Contract Preparation

1:00pm – 3:00pm – Allocation Wells: Production Sharing Agreements/Allocation Agreements

PANEL

Dorsey Roach, UnitPro Land Consultants, LLC

Dorsey attended the University of Oklahoma where in 1977 he received a B.B.A., majoring in Petroleum Land Management (PLM). Upon graduating, Dorsey began his career with Exxon Corporation where he was trained and specialized as a pooling and unitization landman. From 1987-2009, he also held staff and managerial positions with Mesa Petroleum, Crawley Petroleum, Union Pacific Resources, the Williams Cos. and Cheyenne Petroleum.

Since 2009, Dorsey has been managing member/owner of UnitPro Land Consultants, LLC in Oklahoma City where he offers expert witness services for litigation involving land contracts, assists companies in structuring, preparing and/or negotiating their drilling deals and related contracts, and presents seminars for AAPL and other industry organizations.

Dorsey has been a member of the American Association of Professional Landmen (AAPL) since 1977, and a Certified Professional Landman (CPL) since 1986. Since 1984, he has been an instructor for AAPL's CPL Review courses and Joint Operating Agreement ("JOA") seminars. He has authored papers and delivered hundreds of presentations and seminars to numerous industry-related organizations. He was also an adjunct professor in the PLM/Energy Management Program at the University of Oklahoma from 1983-2008, and the Tulsa University Energy Management Program from 2007-2015.

From 1986-1989, Dorsey served as chairman of the AAPL 1989 JOA Revision Committee. From 2011-2015, he served on the AAPL JOA Task Force that drafted the AAPL 1989 Horizontal JOA, and the AAPL 2015 JOA. He currently serves as Chairman of a newly formed drafting committee for AAPL that is charged with drafting a first-ever industry model form Participation Agreement.

Eli Kiefaber

Robert W. (Eli) Kiefaber is a founding partner of Kiefaber & Oliva LLP. Eli focuses his practice on mineral title issues, oil and gas transactions and litigation. His practice includes title opinions, division order opinions, joint operating agreements, acquisition and divestiture of oil and gas assets, federal leases, pooling and unitization, environmental and regulatory matters, and energy and environmental litigation. Eli is also a regular speaker on issues relating to the development of unconventional shale plays and has given presentations regarding legal issues of oil and gas development.

Fred MacDonald

Fred is a founding member of MacDonald & Miller Mineral Legal Services, PLLC. He focuses on oil and gas law, including title examination of Federal, fee, State of Utah and Indian lands, farmout, joint operating agreement and other contract drafting and interpretation, unit formation and operation, and administrative practice before the Utah Board of Oil, Gas and Mining and U.S. Interior Board of Land Appeals.

He received his B.S. in engineering from Purdue University in 1983 and his J.D. from the Valparaiso University School of Law in 1986. Prior to forming MacDonald & Miller Mineral Legal Services, PLLC, he practiced for 22 years with the Salt Lake City natural resources law firm of Pruitt Gushee, PC, where he was a shareholder and managing director, and five years with the Denver-based energy law firm of Beatty & Wozniak, PC, where he was a shareholder in its Utah office. Fred is a member of both the Utah and Tenth Circuit Court of Appeals Bar Associations. He is an active member of both the Utah and American Association of Professional Landmen (AAPL). He currently serves as chairman of the AAPL's Form 610 Operating Agreement Revision Task Force. In addition, Fred is actively involved with the Rocky Mountain Mineral Law Foundation. He previously served on the faculty of the biennial Federal oil and gas leasing short course for nearly 20 years and as a trustee at large for the Foundation.

He has authored many articles and papers, including "Coalbed Methane Units: Making the Square Peg Fit the Round Hole, Regulation and Development of Coalbed Methane," Paper No. 7 (Rocky Mtn. Min. L. Fdn. 2002), “The New AAPL Form 610 Coalbed Methane Checklist: Making the List and How to Check it Twice,” 27 Energy & Min. L. Inst. Ch. 4 (2006), and “Preparing and Finalizing the Unit Agreement: Making Sure Your Exploratory Ducks Are In a Row,” Federal Onshore Oil and Gas Pooling and Unitization, Paper No. 8 (Rocky Mtn. L. Fdn. 2006). He also lectures frequently on various oil and gas topics. He has been listed in the Best Lawyers in America and in Super Lawyers in the area of oil and gas law every year since 2007 and 2008, respectively. Fred was named Best Lawyers in America’s 2012 Salt Lake City Oil and Gas Lawyer of the Year. Fred is originally from Detroit, and has a passion for Motown music. He also considers himself Utah’s most rabid Red Wings fan.

3:30pm – 5:00pm – Ethics: The Jeopardy Game

Donald Campbell

Donald E. Campbell is an Associate Professor of Law at Mississippi College School of Law, where he teaches courses including Ethics and Professional Responsibility, Property, Wills and Estates, Immigration Law, and Construction Law. He received his undergraduate degree from the University of Southern Mississippi, and his J.D. summa cum laude from Mississippi College School of Law. He also received his Ph.D. in Political Science from the University of Florida focusing on the confirmation of judges on the U.S. Courts of Appeal. Prior to joining the MC Law faculty, Professor Campbell practiced law in Jackson and served as a clerk for the Honorable Leslie Southwick on the United States Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit. He has authored a number of articles. Professor Campbell is also coauthor of two treatises on legal and judicial ethics in Mississippi (with the late Jeffrey Jackson) entitled Ethics and Professional Responsibility for Mississippi Lawyers and Judges, published by LexisNexis in 2016. He has also published a textbook on ethics entitled Professional Responsibility & Ethics: Readings, Notes & Questions with Great Hall Press which is currently in its 3rd edition. He serves on the Ethics Committee of the Mississippi Bar and previously served as Reporter for the Mississippi Code of Judicial Conduct Study Committee (charged with recommending changes to the Mississippi Code of Judicial Conduct). Professor Campbell is a frequent speaker on ethics to lawyers and judges.

Saturday, June 23rd

9:00am – 11:00am – Contract Center – Best Practices for Contract Preparation

9:00am – 12:15pm – Comparative Oil and Gas Law Review and Case Law Update: Colorado, Montana, New Mexico, North Dakota, Utah, Wyoming

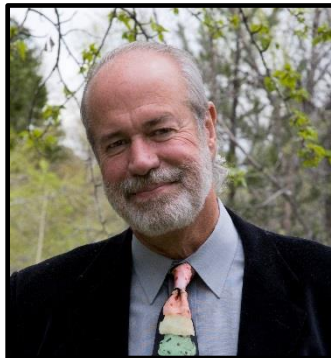

George Snell, TX

George was born in Pampa, Gray County, Texas. He attended Baylor University and Baylor Law School graduating in 1972 with BA and JD degrees. Since 1972, George has practiced law in Amarillo. He maintained a general practice, including litigation, until 1979. In 1979, George joined an attorney who had been preparing title opinions for oil and gas purposes since 1966. George also limited his practice to the oil and gas and real property areas, focusing primarily on the preparation of title opinions for all purposes. George and his former partner, now deceased, have together prepared over 8,000 title opinions.

From 1985 to 1991, he was one of the team of speakers teaching AAPL's Certification Review course. He taught NADOA's Certification Review course from 1993 to 1996. George has spoken at many other industry seminars for landmen, division order analysts and bar associations. Many of his articles have been published in The Landman.

Since 1989, George has served on the Texas Bar's Title Standards Joint Editorial Board. The purpose of title standards is to summarize the law on real property subject and provide practical solutions to common conveyance problems. All real estate practitioners, including oil and gas practitioners, should be familiar with the title standards of any state there they conduct business. While George is not a member of a firm in the traditional sense, George has put together a network of title lawyers representing 21 states who work together for both business and writing purposes. The lawyers have written articles comparing the oil and gas law of their state to Texas, using the same format as in the prototype article written in 1989, which compares the oil and gas law of Oklahoma to Texas. AAPL published the first 18 articles in a two volume set in mid-2011. One volume integrated all 18 articles by the 180+ topics, while the other volume contains each state's article in full. The 2nd Edition is in progress.

As a solo practitioner, George has more flexibility in administrative matters than a larger firm. For example, depending upon the volume of work to be done, he answers the phone either "Hard working lawyer's office" or "Hardly working lawyer's office"!

Craig Newman, WY

Craig Newman graduated from the University of Wyoming College of Law in 1975, where he was one of the editors of the Wyoming Land and Water Law Review. He has been oil and gas lawyer since 1976, in private practice since 1980, and a sole practitioner for 25 years.

For 38 years, he has regularly represented clients before the Wyoming Oil and Gas Conservation Commission and written title opinions for oil and gas clients. He is a member and former trustee of the Rocky Mountain Mineral Law Foundation and has written papers and made presentations at a number of special institutes and one annual institute of the Foundation, including special institutes on title examination and oil and gas conservation law. He also is one of the original chapter authors in THE LAW OF FEDERAL OIL AND GAS LEASES, a two-volume legal treatise published by Matthew Bender and the Rocky Mountain Mineral Law Foundation.

He is the author of the Wyoming portion of OIL & GAS LAW, A NATIONWIDE COMPARISON OF LAWS ON LEASING, EXPLORATION AND PRODUCTION, published in 2010 by the American Association of Professional Landmen (AAPL) and has been a speaker and presenter at a previous AAPL Annual Meeting and special topic seminars.

He is a former Chairman of the Legal Committee of the Interstate Oil and Gas Compact Commission and was Wyoming's representative to the Compact for 8 years. He has been listed as a member of The Best Lawyers in America and in Martindale Hubbell's Bar Registry of Preeminent Lawyers, both for more than 25 years, and has been listed in Rocky Mountain Super Lawyers since 2008.

In October, 2017, Newman received the Wyoming State Bar's 7th Gerald R. Mason Professionalism Award, given annually to recognize an attorney whose career exemplifies the highest standards of professionalism and ethics.

He is married to Rita Miller Newman and resides in Casper and Story, Wyoming.

Greg Danielson, CO

For the last 30 years, Greg Danielson has primarily represented oil and gas companies in the areas of exploration and production. He has extensive experience in the negotiation and preparation of purchase and sale agreements, various forms of exploration and marketing agreements, and preparation of all forms of title opinions, including drilling, division order, financing, and acquisition opinions.

Mr. Danielson has represented oil and gas clients in administrative matters before the Colorado Oil and Gas Conservation Commission. He has also acted as Chapter 7 trustee in bankruptcy to liquidate a small independent oil and gas company and has generally represented clients in workouts and bankruptcy proceedings.

Mr. Danielson is an active participant with the Rocky Mountain Mineral Law Foundation. He has served on the Board of Trustees and the Executive Committee for the Foundation and co-chaired special Institute Programs in 2002 (The Regulation and Development of Coalbed Methane) and 2004 (Development Issues & Conflicts in Modern Gas and Oil Plays). He also has been named in The Best Lawyers in America[®] for Energy, Natural Resources, and Oil & Gas Law. He was also named by Best Lawyers[®] as “Lawyer of the Year” for Natural Resources Law and Energy Law in Denver. Mr. Danielson has been recognized by Chambers USA for Natural Resources & Environment.

He has been a lecturer and author for various industry groups. Mr. Danielson is a past Chairman of the Natural Resources and Energy Law Section of the Colorado Bar Association.

Greg Nibert, NM

Active in the Independent Petroleum Association of New Mexico Greg served as its President 2011-12 and selected as member of the year in 2005 and 2013. He is the immediate past Treasurer and former member of the Board of Directors, and a current Trustee of the Rocky Mountain Mineral Law Foundation. Greg is a member of the State Bar of New Mexico and was Chair of the Section of Natural Resources, Energy and Environmental Law of the State Bar of New Mexico in 1990-91. He is also a member of the Chaves County Bar Association (President in 2010-11), New Mexico Landmen’s Association, and American Association of Professional Landmen.

In 2006 Greg was elected to serve as a Chaves County Commissioner, and reelected in 2010. He was Chair of the Chaves County Republican Party in 2001-03 and has been involved in a number of local, state and national elections, as well as serving as one of the Republican Party lawyers in several recounts and election-day issues. He served on the Roswell Independent School District Board of Education in 1996. He remains active in Kiwanis International and is currently Lt. Governor of Division 4 in the Southwest District and is a Distinguished Past President of the Roswell Kiwanis Club. He served as Chairman of the Rio Hondo District of the Conquistador Council, Boy Scouts of America 1997-2003 and currently is serving as Vice President-Finance of the Conquistador Council and is Assistant Scout Master of Troop 2. He was President of the Roswell Chamber of Commerce 2007-08 and served on the executive committee and board of directors of the Roswell-Chaves County Economic Development Corporation from 2010-14. Greg is a graduate of Leadership New Mexico (Core class of 2011 and Government class of 2009).

Timothy Dowd, OK

Timothy C. Dowd is an attorney with Elias, Books, Brown & Nelson, P.C., in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma. Mr. Dowd is a past President of the Oklahoma City Mineral Lawyers Society (1996-97); and is past Chairperson of the Oklahoma Bar Association Mineral Law Section (2005-06). Mr. Dowd is the author of the Oklahoma chapter of AAPL's Nationwide Comparison of Laws on Leasing, Exploration and Production (2011) and the chapter on Oil and Gas Titles in West Publishing Company's Oklahoma Real Estate Forms and Practice.